Senate Hears Mixed Review Of Energy Freeze Bill; Early December Committee Vote Eyed

The state's top consumer utility advocate told a Senate panel Tuesday the renewable energy and energy efficiency benchmarks in a Senate bill are "reasonable."

But Ohio Consumers' Counsel Bruce Weston said in testimony before the Senate Energy & Natural Resources Committee that he still has plenty of concerns with the proposal (SB 320).

Mr. Weston's was one of a trio of witnesses on both sides of the issue to appear before the committee during the bill's third hearing.

Questioned by Chairman Sen. Troy Balderson (R-Zanesville), Mr. Weston said that a 12.5% renewable energy benchmark for 2029 and beyond was reasonable in his view. As for the 17% benchmark for energy efficiency - which was reduced from the bill's earlier 22% - Mr. Weston said that number is on the lower end of "something I could accept as reasonable."

Sen. Balderson said in an interview he has no intention of holding a vote on the issue next week considering the holiday and the short notice interested parties received about Tuesday's hearing.

"We'll have some more hearings," Sen. Balderson said. "We want to give everyone adequate time. We'd like to have at least something by the first of December that we can vote on."

Several amendments have been drafted behind the scenes, although it's unclear if and when they'll be introduced for consideration. Sponsor Sen. Bill Seitz said he is unsure whether he will introduce any of his prepared amendments next week.

"I think there are a couple things we could tweak along the way, but, yes, I do feel good about it," Sen. Balderson said of the status of the bill. "And I know one amendment might be the mercantile opt out. It's in there right now (to start) in 2019, but 2017 was talked about last week in committee."

Outlining his concerns with the bill, Mr. Weston urged the committee to: preclude utilities from charging consumers for shared savings that are not a direct result of utility programs or that are unrelated to electricity sales; add language to protect consumers from bearing any cost associated with the mercantile opt-out program, and; prohibit consideration of renewables and energy efficiency in cases other than those intended for implementing the energy standards.

Responding to a question from Sen. Seitz, Mr. Weston floated the idea of a 3% cost cap for consumers. He also argued for requiring utilities to use competitive bidding when retaining providers or vendors when implementing their energy efficiency programs.

He further advised against any attempts to add language permitting electricity rate hikes if a utility's financial integrity is at risk.

"If such a change in the law is to be considered by the legislature, it should be done in a standalone bill with a full public hearing process and not rushed in this limited post-election session," Mr. Weston said.

Brakey Energy President Matt Brakey was the only proponent to testify during this week's hearing. He said the company fully supports the mercantile customer opt-out and would even urge the provision to be enacted sooner.

The bill as written would expand opt-out eligibility to businesses consuming more than 700,000 kilowatt hours per year - a move opponents say is premature considering the existing opt-out doesn't begin until 2017. (See Gongwer Ohio Report, November 17, 2016)

Even if the opt-out timeline isn't advanced, Mr. Brakey said, lawmakers should act fast in reaching a resolution before the ongoing freeze on energy standards expires at year's end.

"Because of the cycle time of the electric distribution utilities, delaying commonsense reforms will require the utilities to launch another expensive, multi-year installment toward compliance that will be passed onto Ohio's residential, commercial, industrial, and institutional customers," he said. "This is an outcome Ohioans cannot afford."

Environmental Law and Policy Center Senior Attorney Rob Kelter said the group opposes the bill's removal of compliance mechanisms for the first three years.

Opponents argue such language waters down the state's approach to renewables while proponents say it buys the state more time pending the legal resolution of the Clean Power Plan.

"The utilities recover both their costs and lost revenues related to energy efficiency so they are held harmless. On top of that they share the savings they generate for customers through shared savings mechanisms that all the utilities have achieved," Mr. Kelter said. "Some utilities have earned bonuses as high as $20 million per year from running the programs. Making the standards voluntary sends the wrong signal regarding the importance of the standards and the need to meet the targets."

Mr. Kelter said the group also opposes both the lowering of the energy efficiency benchmark to 17% and the potential expansion of the mercantile opt-out program.

"Somehow, listening to the testimony and comments from proponents, one would think Ohio is about to become California," Mr. Kelter said. "We are only looking for a very reasonable and doable level of efficiency and renewables that will benefit all Ohioans through both cleaner air and lower bills."

Alan Rosenfield submitted written opponent testimony on behalf of the League of Women Voters of Ohio, saying that the bill "continues bad policy by refusing to require a reasonable percentage of energy come from renewable sources."

"We reject the idea that SB320 lifts the two-year freeze imposed on renewable energy requirements," he wrote. "We urge that the current language of O.R.C. 4928-64 be retained and oppose any changes in that section that are included in SB320."

Senate Panel Takes Up Ignition Interlock Device Measure

First-time OVI offenders could have the opportunity to be granted unlimited driving privileges, with a catch, under a House bill reviewed in the Senate Tuesday.

The legislation (HB 388) sponsored by Rep. Gary Scherer (R-Circleville) would allow first-time offenders to petition the court for unlimited driving privileges with an Ignition Interlock Device during the offender's driver's license suspension.

"Our current laws contain an ineffective system of limited driving privileges. The offender first has a period of 15 days where he or she cannot drive at all. Then he or she can obtain limited driving privileges from the judge and may be granted access to any occupational, educational, vocational, or medical destinations as well as commercial licensing exams and court mandated appearances during certain times of the day," he told members of the Senate Insurance Committee Tuesday.

"Second-time offenders are required to use a certified Ignition Interlock Device (IID) if restricted driving has been permitted. Second time offenders are also required to employ yellow license plates on their vehicles. The second offense provisions all too often give rise to plea bargains to reduce the overall punishment."

The legislation, dubbed "Annie's Law," also lengthens the first-time minimum suspension from six months to 12 months. However, that suspension can be cut in half if a court grants a request to use an IID.

In addition, the measure would also require a first-time offender to obtain a restricted license indicating the use of an IID is required.

"It is important to note that this language is permissive: the offender is not required to request the use of the device, nor is the judge required to allow the use of the device. The IID petition can only be granted at the time of conviction, not at the time of the arraignment. There is no change to current law for the time from arrest to conviction," Rep. Scherer said.

Yet another provision of the bill would extend the look-back period for OVI offenses from six to 10 years.

Sen. Edna Brown (D-Toledo) questioned the rationale behind that provision.

Rep. Scherer said it was requested by municipal court judges who believe the six-year window is not long enough.

In researching the legislation, Rep. Scherer told the panel that he voluntarily installed an IID in his own vehicle and sought to allay some of the misconceptions about the device, including the belief that an impaired driver could have a child blow into it to allow a vehicle to be started.

"It's not that simple to use," he said. "It does require a velocity of air going through the device, and a sustained velocity."

Chairman Sen. Jay Hottinger (R-Newark) asked if the devices require a driver to do anything while operating a vehicle.

Rep. Scherer said that some do require a "rolling retest," which he was initially opposed to until he learned that 28 states with similar laws also mandate continued testing after the initial one to allow the vehicle to start.

"It is not a significant burden," he said. "You can always pull over to the side of the road to do it. I found that once I got used to it, I didn't need to pull over to do it."

The bill is named after Annie Rooney, who was killed by a drunken driver in 2013.

"The woman who hit Annie that fateful day had at least three misdemeanor charges of operating a vehicle while impaired filed against her. Since her death, Annie's family has worked with Mothers Against Drunk Driving and others in their cause to reduce the number of casualties to this horrible tragedy that occurs far too often," Rep. Scherer said.

The bill has been in the works for three years and currently has no known opposition, Rep. Scherer told the panel.

The measure cleared the House in an 84-5 vote in May. (See Gongwer Ohio Report, May 18, 2016)

Proponents Urge Senate Support For Ohio EPA Updates

More than a dozen proponents testified or submitted written testimony to the Senate Energy & Natural Resources Committee Tuesday on the governor's second OEPA-themed mid-biennium review bill.

During the bill's (SB 333) second hearing before the committee, lawmakers asked no questions as witnesses touted what they perceive as the bill's merits.

By and large, the group said the bill would install much-needed oversight over construction and demolition debris processing plants, refocus the mission of the Lake Erie Commission, and permit the Ohio Environmental Protection Agency's director to waive, transfer or revoke a 401 water quality certification. (See Gongwer Ohio Report, May 18, 2016)

Ohio Environmental Council Deputy Director Jack Shaner thanked the OEPA for participating in stakeholder meetings to gather feedback, saying the group is "confident that constructive compromise amendments will emerge."

That's because the group, which supports the bill, still has two areas of concern, Mr. Shaner said.

One provision worth revisiting, he said, is language that makes substantive changes to the makeup, authority and duties of the Lake Erie Commission. The bill's intent is to refocus the commission on helping the state meet its obligations under the Great Lakes Water Quality Agreement.

"It remains unclear how and to what extent the commission will 'ensure the...implementation of federal, state and local policies, programs and issues,'" Mr. Shaner said, recommending instead the language be changed so the commission can ensure coordination of "the funding, implementation, and monitoring" of those areas.

The group also requested a change in language enabling the OEPA director to grant 401 waivers, which proponents say will speed up projects already approved by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers.

OEC argues the waiver should be considered a final appealable order and should not be issued within 90 days of the agency's receipt of a complete application to allow actual agency review. Further, the group said the director should be required to include written justification for granting the waiver.

Cuyahoga County Solid Waste District Executive Director Diane Bickett testified the bill would address "serious problems" stemming from unregulated C&DD processing facilities in the county. She said such sites accumulate waste, becoming eyesores and ultimately shifting the burden of cleanup onto taxpayers.

"Most of the debris being accepted at this and other sham recycling facilities is debris resulting from the demolition of vacant homes," she said. "Demolition contractors cut costs by taking the debris to these sham recycling sites because they undercut the disposal fees that legitimate recyclers and landfills must charge in order to operate properly."

Ohio Environmental Health Association President Chad Brown said the group has spent a decade trying to address issues within the C&DD industry, but has made little progress without legislative action.

"There have been cases in all regions of the state where materials have been stockpiled without being processed properly, which has resulted in public nuisance situations," Mr. Brown said. "SB333 aims to address these nuisance conditions and provide the proper authority to OEPA and local health departments to address these issues."

Other witnesses praised different facets of the bill. Ohio Chamber of Commerce Director of Energy and Environmental Policy Zachary Frymier said the bill would improve business efficiency and surface water quality by strengthening the Certified Water Quality Professional Program.

Agreeing the bill would allow the state to address "bad actors" in the C&DD industry, he also praised the 401 waiver provision.

Ohio Rural Water Association Executive Director Kevin Strang singled out the bill's requirement that private water systems maintain an asset management plan. He said his association regularly assists systems with few resources that have overlooked or delayed maintenance and inventory planning.

"We have most recently provided extensive services to the villages of Botkins in Shelby County, Gratis in Preble County, and Spring Valley in Green County," he said. "In these three systems alone we project potential long term savings in excess of $500,000 by reducing the need for premature repairs and replacement of system equipment."

Others testifying in support of the measure included Geoff Guss of Coschoton's McWane Ductile, professional engineer Alan Olsen, Great Lakes RCAP Director Debbie Martin, Hecla Water Association Inc. General Manager Tony Howard, and Materials Management Advisory Council Chairman Michael Dineen.

Submitting written proponent testimony were Port of Cleveland Vice President of External Affairs Jade Davis, Cuyahoga County Health Commissioner Terry Allan, Aqua Ohio Inc. and Aqua Ohio Wastewater Inc. President Ed Kolodziej, CSX Resident Vice President Rusty Orben, and a pair of Ohio residents.

Committee Chair Raises Concerns About Insurance Bill

The leader of a Senate committee on Tuesday questioned the efficacy of a measure designed to prevent certain uninsured drivers from collecting non-compensatory damages as a result of a traffic accident.

Sen. Jay Hottinger (R-Newark), chairman of the Senate Insurance Committee, said a recent study found that the measure (HB 279) would decrease the rate of uninsured drivers on Ohio's roadways by just 1.6%.

"Candidly, 1.6% is probably certainly inside the margin of error," he said.

Sponsoring Rep. Michael Henne (R-Clayton) said the legislation is about fairness. He likened the circumstances it addresses to a group that buys lottery tickets and hits a jackpot, then someone who did not contribute to the purchase asking for a share of the winnings.

"If everybody participates then we are protecting everybody," he said.

Sen. Hottinger also raised concerns about a letter from the Ohio Judicial Conference sent to Rep. Jeff Rezabek (R-Clayton), a co-sponsor of the bill, that suggested the measure could violate both the Equal Protection and Due Process clauses of the Ohio Constitution.

But Rep. Henne said just one state's high court found a similar measure to be unconstitutional.

Under the bill, those who have a previous conviction of driving without insurance in the past seven years would be barred from seeking non-compensatory damages in the event of a traffic accident.

"They can still collect damages for their damaged property, medical bills, and loss of wages," Rep. Henne said.

Uninsured motorists would still be able to sue for non-economic damages in what Rep. Henne described as egregious situations, including crashes involving a four- or six-point offense, texting while driving and wrongful death. Drivers under the age of 18 will also be exempted from the law.

An estimated 15% of Ohio drivers are uninsured, above the national average of 13%, according to Rep. Henne.

The number of crashes involving uninsured drivers increased from 50,151 in 2011 to 95,000 in 2015, he said.

"Drivers who repeatedly choose not to participate in a system that is designed to protect all drivers, by failing to purchase the required minimum limits of liability protection, will no longer receive the full benefits of this system," he said. "If they are injured by another driver, HB279 affords the uninsured driver more than the amount of protection they offer their victims."

Sen. Hottinger was not alone in questioning the measure. Sen. Edna Brown (D-Toledo) said she supports the goal behind the bill, but does not believe it will accomplish "a great deal."

"I would like to see a bill where we come forth with some method by which we use some other stick," she said.

Adding that there are many Ohioans who cannot afford liability insurance and lack access to public transportation, the Democrat said, "We need something else. We need to look at the possibility that there may be extenuating circumstances."

Rep. Henne replied by saying that if someone does not have the financial means to obtain liability insurance, they don't have the financial means to drive a vehicle.

"Should we allow people to run through red lights if they are late for work?" he asked.

The legislation passed the House in May on a largely party-line vote of 62-35, with Reps. Jonathan Dever (R-Cincinnati) and Louis Terhar (R-Cincinnati) voting with the Democrats on opposition. (See Gongwer Ohio Report, May 25, 2016)

Medical Board Closes Investigation Into Dayton Abortion Clinic

Anti-abortion groups on Tuesday called for further government action against a Dayton-area clinic following the State Medical Board of Ohio's closure of a case involving the facility.

Ohio Right to Life and Dayton Right to Life urged the board to either disclose the investigative record or reopen the probe into Women's Med Center in Kettering regarding a June incident in which a patient received an abortion despite being unable to consent due to a drug overdose.

Dayton Right to Life filed complaints with the board earlier this year after an incident report from the Ohio Department of Health. The patient had taken a number of drugs the day of the scheduled abortion and was unable to walk on her own or keep her eyes open, according to the report. (See Gongwer Ohio Report, August 4, 2016)

Paul Coudron, executive director of Dayton Right to Life, said he received a notice from the Medical Board that the cases against the doctors at the facility had been closed with no action taken.

"The women of Dayton deserve to know why no action, not even a reprimand, has been taken by this institution," he said at a Columbus news conference.

Mr. Coudron and Devin Scribner, executive director of Ohio Right to Life, said they want the board either to release the record of their investigation or to reopen the case.

"Today we're here to call for action from the State Medical Board," Mr. Scribner said. "Case closed is not good enough for us."

Katherine Franklin, spokeswoman for Ohio Right to Life, said the issue is one of informed consent and should be of concern for Ohioans regardless of their attitudes toward abortion.

"This is much more a question of ethics in medicine more than it is politics," she said. "Pro-choice and pro-life advocates should be demanding action on this case, because it gets to the heart of a woman's right to say no and control her own bodily autonomy."

Michael Gonidakis, the president of Ohio Right to Life, serves as president of the State Medical Board but said he would recuse himself in the case. The investigation was closed by board staff and never required a hearing before the board.

Tessie Pollock, a spokeswoman for the board, said the details of complaints and investigations are confidential.

"When we receive complaints about informed consent, we investigate fully, as we do with all complaints against licensees," she said in an email. "Informed consent is an essential part of a physician's standard of care; failure to obtain informed consent is a failure to meet the minimal standard of care required of Ohio licensed physicians."

Investigative staff at the board have access to medical records, interviews with providers, patients, complainants and experts, and can subpoena documents, she said.

Kellie Copeland, executive director of NARAL Pro-Choice Ohio, said the case has been reviewed and closed.

"When this case opened, the Ohio Department of Health investigated and asked the provider to rewrite their policy, which they did," she said in a statement. "Both the health department and the State Medical Board have looked into this case, and neither have decided additional action is necessary. Case closed."

"Women in Ohio need access to safe and legal abortion care from providers like Women's Med Center," she added. "They don't need political interference from Ohio Right to Life."

Buckeye Institute Touts Charity Care; OSMA Launches Opioid Campaign; Innovation Ohio Eyes Food Insecurity

The state could encourage more affordable health care by incentivizing doctors to perform charity care, according to a policy brief by the Buckeye Institute.

Bureaucratic hurdles in Medicaid create a situation in which doctors often refuse new patients, and limitations on voluntary charity care would help doctors and nurses reach more people, wrote Greg Lawson, Statehouse liaison for the Buckeye Institute.

The policy brief encouraged lawmakers to allow health care professionals to receive continuing education credits in exchange for providing charity care to underserved Ohioans. Other states, such as Florida, allow medical professionals to earn credit for up to a certain number of hours or a certain percentage of credit per renewal period. Bills have been introduced (HB 488 and SB 292) to deal with these issues.

"Healthcare providers must maintain a requisite number of CE credits to practice in Ohio, and allowing some of those credits to be earned through charity care will increase the supply of quality treatment available to the poor," Mr. Lawson wrote.

Other possible changes that would improve access to charity care include broadening immunity provisions that protect charity care providers from malpractice lawsuits, the brief said, and relaxing regulatory requirements on licensed nurses. A bill (HB 216) to increase the autonomy of advanced practice registered nurses has cleared the House and is currently before a Senate committee.

"These are examples of the kind of reforms that could be pursued as policymakers devise ways to extend access to more affordable healthcare to our neediest patients and communities," Mr. Lawson wrote.

OSMA Opioid Campaign: The Ohio State Medical Association has launched a campaign aimed at fighting the problem of misuse and abuse of opioid painkillers.

The campaign, called BeSmart, includes posters and prescription pads for doctors and prescribers to use that raise awareness of information about the potentially addictive and dangerous drugs.

The materials include links and numbers for drug-related resources and advice for people who are prescribed opioids, people who are prescribed non-opioid treatments, and for talking to children about drug abuse.

Food Insecurity Report: An investment of $16 million in the Ohio State Extension nutrition education programs could lift 24,000 Ohioans out of food insecurity, according to a report from the Innovation Ohio Education Fund.

The report looked at a number of potential policy solutions for dealing with the state's high rate of food insecurity, including improving the nutrition education programs, expanding the number of counties with SNAP eligibility waivers, reforming the state earned income tax credit and investing in job creation programs.

It found the education funding to be highly effective, while grading it a medium for efficiency and political feasibility.

"Based on the above analysis, I recommend that the state of Ohio expand its nutrition education program and expand the number of counties with SNAP eligibility waivers," author Rob Moore wrote. "EITC reforms and job programs, while potentially valuable for other reasons, are unlikely to significantly decrease food insecurity in the state without large, expensive investments."

"A state-funded SNAP-Ed program funded at $16 million (a modest 0.6% increase in higher education spending for Ohio and one tenth the size of an EITC expansion) would lead to a projected reduction in food insecurity that would lift 24,000 Ohioans out of food insecurity," he added.

Farmers Union Prices Thanksgiving Dinner; AG Warns On Holiday Shopping Scams; DSW Sales Up

Farmers will see less than 20% of consumer dollars spent on popular holiday menu items this year, according to an annual report.

The Thanksgiving edition of the National Farmers Union Farmer's Share publication found that farmers receive 19.4 cents of every food dollar spent on 15 common holiday foods. Most of the cost of traditional fare comes from marketing, processing, wholesaling, distribution and retailing.

Throughout the year, research has found farmers take in a little more than 17 cents for every food dollar consumers spend, NFU said.

"It's important to understand the difference between the price consumers pay for food at the grocery store or restaurant and the commodity prices farmers are paid for their products, NFU President Roger Johnson said in a statement.

"Just recently, food costs started to drop, but farm and ranch families have been plagued by low commodity prices for nearly three years," he said. "Comparatively, the costs associated with the rest of the supply chain have a more pronounced effect on consumers' food prices."

Turkey growers receive about 89 cents per pound retailing at $1.59, while wheat farmers averaged four cents on a dozen dinner rolls that retail for $3.29 and dairy producers received $1.44 for the average $4.49 gallon of fat free milk, the report shows.

Holiday Shopping: The Better Business Bureau and Attorney General Mike DeWine are working to inform consumers about how to keep themselves and their wallets safe as the holiday shopping season officially kicks off this week.

The AG's office released a list of tips for the estimated 137.4 million shoppers expected to take to stores over the Thanksgiving holiday weekend.

It includes recommendations to make plans before getting to stores, diligently reading fine print in ads and on "free" offers, and monitor bank accounts for any fraudulent charges.

"We encourage consumers to take some simple steps to protect themselves," Attorney General DeWine said. "Whether they're shopping online or in stores, we encourage people to take their time, understand the details, and ask for help if they need it. Awareness can go a long way in preventing problems."

BBB, meanwhile, has launched a new #AdTruth campaign to highlight common schemes companies use to lure in business and inform shoppers about how to truly find the best deals.

As more purchasing moves to the internet, BBB is also providing information about how to determine if a website or advertising emails are credible.

DSW: Third-quarter sales increased 4.7% to $697 million compared to the same period last year, when sales decreased 2%, the company reported.

The Columbus-based footwear and accessories retailer also reported net income of $39 million, or $0.47 per diluted share. The total includes pre-tax charges from the acquisition of Ebuys, which is another footwear retailer.

"This quarter reflects the first step in our return to year-over-year earnings growth," CEO Roger Rawlins said "After four consecutive declines, we reported a 16% increase in Adjusted Earnings Per Share this quarter."

"Tighter inventory management drove improvements in gross margin which, combined with effective expense management, resulted in an increase in net income," he continued. "We've reduced clearance markdowns and we are positioned to generate more profitable sales in the holiday season."

The State of our Region

At Economic Development 411 each year, the Columbus Region comes together to dialogue about economic development fundamentals and issues of the day. As we approach the event this year, the state of the Columbus Region and Columbus 2020 Regional Growth Strategy is strong thanks to a lot of hard work, collaboration and good fortune.

While we have work to do to close gaps in our strategy and to provide opportunities for the entire region, our metrics are strong. 130,000 net new jobs have been created in the 11-county region since January 2010. Over a million Central Ohioans are working, and we have a higher than average labor participation rate at 68 percent.

Over $7.5 billion dollars have been invested by key private sector employers, and billions more have been added by the growing healthcare and education sectors. Per capita income is growing and is also up over 17 percent since 2010. Our population is growing faster than ever before and Central Ohio is home to more than 2.1 million people, creating momentum for our housing industry and providing opportunities for local entrepreneurs to start small businesses.

Technology commercialization, venture- and angel-backed startups, and our entrepreneurial support networks are thriving. And, there is great energy to advance transportation through Smart Columbus and Smart Corridor efforts.

We are positioned for success and we have the tools to continue to compete for opportunities well into the future. If we continue to work at closing the gaps and if we are as resilient as our beloved Buckeyes, we will do just fine!

We look forward to seeing many of you at ED411 on Friday and we welcome the input and support of everyone reading.

Subject: Scheduling Legislation
Attachments: Youngstown Bill of Rights Ballot.pdf

Shawn:

A brief description is below as well as an attachment of the actual ballot language. Please don't hesitate to ask questions.

Part-Time Workers Bill of Rights: This November, the city of Youngstown passed a restrictive scheduling law by a vote of 45 to 55 that was placed on the ballot by Michigan business man Bob Goodrich to help get out the Democratic vote. Below are just some items this new Charter Amendment in Youngstown will do:

1. Creates a new commission of five individuals who are appointed by city council to serve without compensation. The commission will have how-to power to investigate business on the following items:
  - Employers who don't provide employees with expected number of scheduled shifts and specify the days and hours, including on-call shifts, at least two weeks in advance. In the restaurant industry, employees frequently trade shifts to accommodate their schedules.
  - Pay part-time workers the same starting hourly wage that full-time employees receive. Part-time workers must be given proportional access to employer-provided paid and unpaid time off, including sick leave, personal leave, vacation and benefits
  - Employers would not be allowed to hire any additional part-time workers without offering current part-time workers full-time employment.
2. In addition to these changes, employers would be required to keep employment and payroll records pertaining to current and former part-time workers for a minimum of three years.
3. If the commission finds employers in violation of any of the following business will be fined $1,000 dollars per violation and if three violations are committed within a 3 year period the amount goes to $10,000 per violation.

Business leaders would rather have a thought-out approach to workers' rights rather than an approach taken by an out-of-state activist, such as Bob Goodrich. Goodrich attempted to place something similar on the ballot in his home state of Michigan but found the citizen initiated process was much more cumbersome than Ohio's process. Goodrich also attempted to place this proposal on the ballot in Cleveland but was unsuccessful.

Essentially, this proposal was crafted by Service Employees International Union (SEIU) and attempts to make it almost impossible to hire part-time workers. Versions of this have passed in San Francisco, and Seattle. In San Francisco, there were multiple delays in implementation as the city and businesses struggled to understand the convoluted law. Once implemented, businesses are reporting higher human resource/compliance costs and also reduced flexibility for employees as voluntary shift swapping policies for employees are being eliminated.

Each day a violation continues after the passage of seventy-five (75) days from the date of the filing of the initial complaint with the Commission shall constitute a separate and distinct offense. Any person or entity violating any provision of Sections 122 to 132 may be enjoined by a suit filed by the City in a court of competent jurisdiction, and this remedy is in addition to any penalty provision. Section 132 If any section, subsection, paragraph, sentence, clause, phrase, or work of Sections 122 to 132, or any application thereof to any person or circumstance, is held to be invalid or unconstitutional by a decision of a court of competent jurisdiction, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions or applications of these sections. Shawn,

This is not an urgent request but I would like to prospectively look forward in December to when you and I could sit down and talk about some key legislative items for AFP in the first three months of 2017 as well as the new scorecard we will be rolling out for Ohio legislators.

Do you have some dates we would look at?

Hi Marisa and Shawn,

Rep. Pelanda needs some info for an event she has with ABC (Associated Builders and Contractors) in Springboro tomorrow. Attached are some talkers Brad and I prepared for her.

She included some guidelines regarding what exactly she needed... (see below)

1. Your expectations on the caucus 2017 policy priorities.
2. They will want to talk about Kentucky's repeal of both prevailing wage and right to work in the first day of their majority and why Ohio can't do anything labor related.
3. They are interested in workforce development. There is a shortage of high school and college aged young people choosing careers in trades. Some programs designed to help end up providing some training but no connection to the workforce.
4. PLAs remain a priority. The senate will apparently block unless the house insists.

Given the topic, we wanted to make sure you saw these before we sent them along. Any additional info that you think we should include?

Thanks!

Talking points for ABC

January 9, 2017

2017 caucus priorities

- I expect this to be another very active year in the House and in the General Assembly

Budget

- Of course, the governor will be unveiling his biennial budget proposal at the end of the month
- That is a painstaking process that requires feedback and input from all sides, including the Builders and Contractors
- The governor has previously said to expect this year's budget to be a little tighter, but we will wait and see what his final proposal looks like and I anticipate the many months of hard work ahead
  - Regardless, we must be stewards of taxpayer dollars

Unemployment compensation reform

- Must always be cognizant of potential economic uncertainties by diligently undertaking unemployment compensation reform to ensure the solvency and security of this critical safety net
- We made some great progress over the past couple years toward making our state's unemployment compensation fund solvent
- We will continue to devote great attention to this issue in the several months forthcoming by working with labor and business to find a balanced approach that puts our state on solid footing for years to come

Education

- It is more than just providing adequate funding for schools, although that is important
- Our caucus is firmly supportive of expansive educational options for families—public, private, charter, vocational, career development programs—education is the foundation of everything we do in this state, and all of these options play a major role in success, prosperity and improving workforce development efforts
- It is critical that we ensure greater predictability and certainty in schools so that communities and parents can better respond to local needs, and that teachers have the freedom to prepare our youth for the future

Energy

- Continue to strive and promote free and open markets in all energy sectors
- Greater freedom in these industries will expand our energy options down the road
- What that looks like specifically will be a continued topic of discussion, but the General Assembly passed legislation last year that would have reduced some of the burdens on energy providers (vetoed); expect that proposal and others like it to be revisited this year

Heroin/Prescription drug epidemic

- Sadly, Ohio is home to the most opioid overdose deaths in the country
- Also, one in nine heroin overdose deaths in the United States happen in Ohio
- This is a problem that impacts all aspects of our state: families, education, economy, workforce development
- I believe the legislature has taken important steps to try and curb this problem, but the problem is constantly changing, and our approach must remain diligent and creative
  - Soon, we are unveiling the Ohio HOPES Agenda (Heroin, Opiates, Prevention, Education, and Safety)
    - This is a strategy of treatment, prevention and education, in addition to a more aggressive response to drug-related violence that threatens our communities and law enforcement officers working every day to make us safe.

Details of Kentucky's right-to-work passage and repeal of prevailing wage law

- Republican lawmakers passed right-to-work legislation in a rare Saturday session
  - It is expected to be signed into law by Governor Matt Bevin, which would make Kentucky the 27th state to enact such a law (more than half the country)
  - Republicans in Kentucky had just regained control of the state's General Assembly for the first time since 1921
  - Kentucky was the last of the southern states to adopt a right-to-work law
- They also repealed the state's prevailing wage agreements (PLAs)
  - Impacts publicly financed construction projects
  - State officials will no longer set the wages for construction workers on publicly financed projects
  - Opponents of PLAs argue they inflate the cost of public works projects
- Side note: Since 2012, many states in the industrial Midwest have become right-to-work states, including Indiana, Michigan, Wisconsin and West Virginia
  - With the addition of Kentucky, Ohio will be nearly surrounded by right-to-work states

Labor-related issues from previous General Assembly

- Senate Bill 152—eliminating residency requirements
  - Balanced approach aimed at increasing competition and being efficient with tax dollars.

- Helps local governments respond to the needs of their communities and constituents, while also making sure they get the most bang for the buck with tax revenue, so that they can address other concerns of the area as well.
- In 2009, the Ohio Supreme Court ruled that requiring employees to reside within a given geographic location violated employees' rights that are protected under the Ohio constitution. SB 152 expands that principle to the hiring of third-party employees, such as contractors.
- Also prohibits a state agency from either prohibiting or requiring a contractor to enter into a project labor agreement (PLA).

Workforce development

- During my time in the legislature, I have learned just how many factors are involved with workforce development—far more than most people would initially think of
  - A strong business climate
  - Promotion of careers in trades
  - Cleaning up the state's drug addiction epidemic
  - Continuing support and interest in vocational schools
- There are jobs openings in Ohio
  - There are currently about 120,000 job openings on OhioMeansJobs.com, half of which pay $50,000 or more—these range in all areas of the economy
  - Our job, then, is to make sure job-seekers are aware of these opportunities, as well as continue to promote the kinds of career and educational programs that correspond to the market's needs/demands
- Major workforce development initiatives from 131st GA
  - House Bill 1 (Schuring)
    - Higher Education Workforce Grant Program
    - The program is designed to incentivize students to pursue degrees and/or certificates of education that match the in-demand jobs of Ohio
    - Creates the Workforce Grant Program to award grants to eligible students who are pursuing a degree or certification that is required to be employed in a job considered to be one of the most in demand jobs in Ohio.
    - Language and funding from this bill were passed in separate pieces of legislation
  - House Bill 3 (Romanchuk, Derickson)
    - Lowering filing fees for starting a business
    - The General Assembly passed HB 3, a priority piece of legislation that reduces the filing fee for new small businesses from $125 to $99, making it cheaper and easier for small businesses to get started in Ohio.

- The bill also updates the OhioMeansJobs website to ensure companies have adequate access to the website and its functions so that employers can be linked with potential employees.
- House Bill 429 (Antani, Reineke)
  - Allows automotive mechanics at retail service centers and auto dealerships to participate in the Ohio Incumbent Workforce Training Voucher Program, granted the individual fulfills the program's other requirements.
  - This program is an initiative to promote workforce development by providing financial assistance to an employer that trains employees already on their payroll.
  - Employees get the benefit of additional training through their workplace, growing companies are reimbursed for the costs of training, and the state reaps the economic benefit from more skilled workers and more successful businesses.
  - With a focus on in-demand professions like advanced manufacturing and information technology, automotive technicians at retail stores can also now participate in the program through the passage of this bill.

Hey guys,

I don't have access to my computer, so I can take a deeper look at these later. But at first glance the section on SB 152 is a little misleading. The Senate did not concur on House amendments for that bill (PLAs), but both chambers did pass HB 180, which was the companion bill for residency requirements. Maybe focus on 180 and she can mention that the House tried to do PLAs twice (SB 152 and the budget).

Thanks Marisa - so is this fair for HB 180? Also, the builders and contractors probably wouldn't be on board with the House's PLA language/ideas, would they?

House Bill 180—eliminating residency requirements

- o Companion bill to SB 152; Senate did not concur on House amendments to SB 152
- o House tried to tackle the PLA piece twice (budget and SB 152)
- o Both chambers passed HB 180
- o Residency requirements typically mandate that contractors hire a certain percentage of residents within a given geographic area for public works projects
- o Because such requirements drive down the supply of contractors who are eligible for projects, they in turn drive up the costs of doing business for local governments, all at taxpayers' expense
- o By eliminating residency requirements, House Bill 180 broadens the market for contractors to compete for city projects, which results in better-quality services at lower costs
- o In 2009, the Ohio Supreme Court ruled that requiring employees to reside within a given geographic location violated employees' rights that are protected under the Ohio constitution
- o HB 180 expands that principle to the hiring of third-party employees, such as contractors
- o The US Constitution states that out-of-state employees cannot be discriminated against

o Therefore, in many cases, a policy that is intended to help local residents find work ends up doing just the opposite by allowing local governments to pass them over for men and women from other states

I will soon reintroduce legislation to create the Family and Medical Leave Insurance Program. Beginning in 2020, the program will provide 12 weeks of family and medical leave benefits, which will permit individuals to care for a family member, bond with a new child, or address their own serious health condition.

Out of 178 countries worldwide, the United States is one of three that does not provide paid leave to new mothers. Only two states, California and New Jersey, offer paid leave to men and women who provide care. The federal Family Medical Leave Act provides 12 weeks of leave for family and medical reasons. This time is unpaid and employers with fewer than 50 employees are exempt, which eliminates a large segment of workers. Ohio should lead on the issue of paid leave to grow our economy and allow working people to put family first.

The program will be under the purview of the Department of Job and Family Services. An individual would receive leave insurance benefits for: a health condition which makes him/her unable to perform their job duties; caring for a new child during after birth, adoption, or foster care placement; caring for a child, parent, or spouse who has a serious health condition; or the individual is taking any other leave as authorized by the federal Family and Medical Leave Act. In order to be eligible for program benefits, an individual must file a claim with ODJFS; must have worked at least 680 hours during the base period; premiums have been withheld and remitted for at least one year; and the leave must be for the above-mentioned purposes.

Once established, program benefits will be paid by assessing premiums on employees. Employers will be required to deduct and withhold premiums from employee's wages. However, an employer may opt to pay the contributions on behalf of employees.

An employee who is covered by an employer policy or collective bargaining agreement that provides the employee with greater leave than that provided by the Family and Medical Leave Act may elect not to participate in the Program in accordance with rules adopted by the Director. An employee who elects to opt out of participating in the Program is not liable for any premium or contribution that would otherwise be due under the Program.

Working people in Ohio should not have to worry about losing their job or falling behind financially just to take care of a sick child or relative; address their own serious health condition; or care for and bond with their newborn child. Ohio cities like Dayton and Cincinnati are leading on leave. By allowing working people to put their family first, we can truly make Ohio a better place to live, work, and raise a family.

Shawn,

This is not an urgent request but I would like to prospectively look forward in December to when you and I could sit down and talk about some key legislative items for AFP in the first three months of 2017 as well as the new scorecard we will be rolling out for Ohio legislators.

Do you have some dates we would look at?

RE: Co-Sponsor Request: Public Sector Right-to-Work

I will soon be reintroducing a public sector right-to-work bill. This bill was previously introduced in the 131st General Assembly as HB 583.

There is a national trend of states moving to implement right-to-work laws. With Kentucky being the 27th state to continue that trend, it's time Ohio steps up to the plate. All of Ohio's neighboring states, with the exception of Pennsylvania, have right-to-work laws on the books.

This legislation:

- Provides public sector workers the choice to opt out of union representation and dues.
- Allows non-union employees to voluntarily make financial contributions to a union.
- Protects unions from the requirement of representing non-union employees.
- Appropriates $30,000 in fiscal year 17 for pamphlets and brochures.

If you would like to co-sponsor this legislation or have any questions, please contact Roanna Thawley at (614) 466-8134 or Roanna.Thawley@ohiohouse.gov. The deadline to co-sponsor is COB, Monday, January 30, 2017. Thank you for your consideration.

Mike,

Great seeing you this morning. Per our conversation, we already met with the Senate and would like to meet with the appropriate House staff to share:

1. The merger of Americans for Prosperity, Generation Opportunity, Concerned Veterans for America, and LIBRE (17 full-time staff in Ohio, 430+ volunteers).
2. Our 2017 legislative agenda.
3. The new AFP-Legislative Scorecard.
4. What our broader Freedom Partner Network can offer members and staff.

Please let me know if there is a timeframe that would be amenable.

In the near future, we plan to reintroduce legislation that will codify a state government expenditure database. This measure is identical to House Bill 46 of the 131st General Assembly, which passed the House of Representatives in April of 2015 unanimously with 74 co-sponsors.

Throughout the legislative process, this legislation had no opponents and attracted broad bipartisan support from organizations including the Buckeye Institute, Ohio Public Research Interest Group, and the Ohio Newspaper Association.

Using existing authority, in December 2014, Ohio Treasurer Josh Mandel unveiled www.ohiocheckbook.com, an easily accessible, searchable database of state expenditures for our taxpayers to hold state government accountable for spending. The new website, arguably the best of its kind in the Nation, reflects the intent of this legislation, but it could readily be taken down by a future treasurer of state. Through this legislation, future treasurers, regardless of political affiliation or commitment to transparency, must maintain this important tool that already is providing more accountable government to our state's residents.

RE: Request for Co-Sponsorship – Paid Parental Leave

I will soon reintroduce legislation to create the Family and Medical Leave Insurance Program. Beginning in 2020, the program will provide 12 weeks of family and medical leave benefits, which will permit individuals to care for a family member, bond with a new child, or address their own serious health condition.

Out of 178 countries worldwide, the United States is one of three that does not provide paid leave to new mothers. Only two states, California and New Jersey, offer paid leave to men and women who provide care. The federal Family Medical Leave Act provides 12 weeks of leave for family and medical reasons. This time is unpaid and employers with fewer than 50 employees are exempt, which eliminates a large segment of workers. Ohio should lead on the issue of paid leave to grow our economy and allow working people to put family first.

The program will be under the purview of the Department of Job and Family Services. An individual would receive leave insurance benefits for: a health condition which makes him/her unable to perform their job duties; caring for a new child during after birth, adoption, or foster care placement; caring for a child, parent, or spouse who has a serious health condition; or the individual is taking any other leave as authorized by the federal Family and Medical Leave Act. In order to be eligible for program benefits, an individual must file a claim with ODJFS; must have worked at least 680 hours during the base period; premiums have been withheld and remitted for at least one year; and the leave must be for the above-mentioned purposes.

Once established, program benefits will be paid by assessing premiums on employees. Employers will be required to deduct and withhold premiums from employee's wages. However, an employer may opt to pay the contributions on behalf of employees.

An employee who is covered by an employer policy or collective bargaining agreement that provides the employee with greater leave than that provided by the Family and Medical Leave Act may elect not to participate in the Program in accordance with rules adopted by the Director. An employee who elects to opt out of participating in the Program is not liable for any premium or contribution that would otherwise be due under the Program.

Working people in Ohio should not have to worry about losing their job or falling behind financially just to take care of a sick child or relative; address their own serious health condition; or care for and bond with their newborn child. Ohio cities like Dayton and Cincinnati are leading on leave. By allowing working people to put their family first, we can truly make Ohio a better place to live, work, and raise a family.

RE: Co-Sponsor Request: Public Sector Right-to-Work

I will soon be reintroducing a public sector right-to-work bill. This bill was previously introduced in the 131st General Assembly as HB 583.

There is a national trend of states moving to implement right-to-work laws. With Kentucky being the 27th state to continue that trend, it's time Ohio steps up to the plate. All of Ohio's neighboring states, with the exception of Pennsylvania, have right-to-work laws on the books.

This legislation:

- Provides public sector workers the choice to opt out of union representation and dues.

- Allows non-union employees to voluntarily make financial contributions to a union.
- Protects unions from the requirement of representing non-union employees.
- Appropriates $30,000 in fiscal year 17 for pamphlets and brochures.
